Basketball Season nearing its end!

Both of our grade 7&8 teams will be heading for District competition on March 5! Our younger teams both got a chance to play some exhibition games this past week against Light of Christ, and they learned a ton in their first live-game experiences. Thank you to the referees and coaches who help us place teaching, learning and good sportsmanship above all else during these experiences. And a special thanks to the parents who showed up to cheer them on. These positive memories help build programs, and as we near the end of pandemic restrictions, many school programs will need the help of community volunteers like this to rebuild and grow again! After basketball season, we move on to Badminton!

Authentic Learning at Aurora: To the left, University of Alberta student teacher Joshua Ladouceur assisted Ms. Kitt in hands-on demonstrations in Grade 5 Science class! Textbooks and worksheets don't grow dendrites, but live demonstrations and experimenting does! Below, a Grade 6 class participated in a fun new review game. The class was split into two teams and faced off answering decimal-related questions. Points were awarded, but there was an added component of playing Jenga with blocks that either helped or hindered their team. Blocks included singing every word of the question, saying 'meow' at the end of every sentence, or even pulling Jenga blocks from certain areas of the tower. Lots of laughs throughout the game that engages students in numeracy development!
